RALLY CAP PARENT PARTICIPATION

Winterball:

Please note parents must stay at the gym and will be required to assist their child during these sessions.

Spring Season:

In order to provide the best experience for our Rally Cap players, Parent Participation on the field at practices and on games days is required.

Parent Participation takes many forms, including setting up equipment, supervising players waiting to bat, being a partner to a child to play catch, implementing practice plans, or modelling proper movement and mechanics.

Our goal is to teach the proper mechanics of playing baseball while having fun and being safe.

Agreement

I confirm I have read the Rally Cap Parent Participation information above

RALLY CAP COACHES - PARENT LEAD

Volunteer parent-coaches are needed. At this age, the coach is more of a Parent Lead: someone to help with the team's on-field organization and off-field communication.

For the Rally Cap Division no minimum qualifications or baseball experience required.

KMBA offers a coaches clinic which will take the Parent Leads through a variety of practice sessions giving them the tools for a fun and successful season.

The goal of "coaching" at this level is keeping the kids active (limit the standing around) and making sure the kids have fun while learning the fundamentals of throwing, catching and hitting.

I am Interested in being a Parent Lead
